Revised Residential Development Standards for The Woodlands now in effect

THE WOODLANDS, TEXAS (September 5, 2014) – From time to time, The Development Standards Committee provides for revisions and updates to the Residential Development Standards based on input from residents, contractors and the Residential Design Review Committees.

Considerations for the revisions are based on several factors, which include providing for better customer service to residents and contractors, changes in building materials, and changes in building trends.

The revised standards have been recorded in Montgomery and Harris Counties, and will be in effect as of September 5, 2014.

The revised standards are now available on the Township website on the Covenants page at www.thewoodlandstowship-tx.gov/covenants.
