The Township presents Plant for Pollinators: Small Space Gardening class

THE WOODLANDS, TEXAS (August 17, 2023) – Residents are invited to attend a Small Space Gardening class on Thursday, September 7, 2023, starting at 6 p.m., located at the Parks and Recreation Multi-Purpose Room, 8203 Millennium Forest Drive.

This class, hosted by The Woodlands Township Environmental Services, is part of the Plant For Pollinators program which focuses on creating and preserving the habitat for monarchs, bees and all of our local pollinators.

Come join Abbie Ince-Hendrickson as she shares her tips and tricks on how to garden for pollinators in small space areas. This talk will cover how to create a small-scale pollinator patch, selecting the right plants to attract pollinators, and how we can share our small spaces.
